

Best practice I

1. Title of the practice: Scholarship to economically backward students

2. Goal

Keeping the vision and mission of the institute, the college offers scholarship to students who economically backward students

Education for all is one of the prime motives

No student must be denied quality education because of economic constraint

3. The Context

Many parents send their ward to college in spite of their weak economic background. Such students are awarded funds from the college trust. Money should not be a barrier in the learning process

4.Practice

Scholarships are awarded to deserving students who are economically weak

College allows fee to be paid in installments as per their payment capacity

College trust has designated many awards to meritorious students at the UG and PG level in the streams of Arts, Commerce& Science

5.Evidence of Success

More students get enrolled not worrying about cost of education

Students from distant places whose parents work in fields take admission

Students are motivated to do well and stand meritorious

6. Problems encountered and Resource required

Identifying the deserving candidate is time consuming and challenging

Every year fund allocation is discussed with the auditor to resolve tax issues if any

Screening of students for the award and identifying the deserving candidate gets tough year after year

Best practice II

1. Title of the practice: Maintaining department library

2. Goal

Make text books, reference material and notes available to students

Provide quick and easy access to text books

Improve student teacher interaction

Facilitate students to prepare for exams with easy availability of books

3. The Context

Certain text books and reference book available in the college library are not easily available to students at the time of exam, creating a crunch. Students should not be deprived of books in such a big institute. Allow students to prepare for exam, tutorial and test at ease

4. Practice

Apart from procuring text books, reference books and journals of all subjects in the library every department maintains a department library. Many publishers visit the college and give a specimen copy of books. This is maintained in the department library and given access to students

5. Evidence of Success

In the event of a book not available to student, he or she approaches the department and utilizes it for a specified period. Students take notes and prepare material utilizing the books maintained in the department

6. Problems encountered and Resource required

Space required to maintain the library in the department. Separate cupboards had to be purchased to store and maintain the books